Seen & Heard Around Murray

A large live possum on Main Street just west of Art Lee's home.

Third oldest writes from Viet Nam that he has shaved off his mustache. What man at one time or another, has not had the secret desire to grow a mustache?

We did not have the opportunity to see this mustache, however we will wager that he looks better without it. Bob Bear is one of the few people we have seen who could sport a mustache in a dashing manner.

If you get up early and walk outside, you can detect a tinge of fall in the air. Hickory Nuts are about ready and Acorns are getting fully grown. In fact the Squirrels are already eating Acorns from the big Post Oak in the back yard.

Golden Rod is in full flower and the Chigger Weed has about run its course.

The Hibiscus only has one or two buds remaining, then it will start downhill for the coming winter. It will die down to the ground and meditate throughout the winter, then spring forth once again next year to grace the south side of the house with its twelve foot stalks bearing huge red blossoms.

The leaves of the Oaks and Hickories are getting that parched look and the Black Gum is "shot through" with sparks of red as individual leaves beat the season just a little by adopting the crimson color for fall.

The Loblolly Pines continue to grow, as they will up until the moment. The young Hickories have completed their growth for this year and are hardening up for the onslaught of winter.

The Marigolds have become "frank" and are covered with blossoms which bend the plants down to the ground, leaving big open spaces in the lush leaves and branches.

A young Petunia, timorously sticks its pink blossoms from behind the red Climbing Rose. Where it came from we don't know, but it is blooming just the same.

The Periwinkles defy the sun and bloom continuously. The seeds they drop are already five inches out of the ground and will bloom before the summer finally dies.

The berries on the Pyracantha are turning a brilliant orange and the green berries on the Mahonia Holly pull the branches of this beauty down to the ground.

The Azaleas continue to put out new growth and bide their time for their much of pest moss and rotten leaves which will aid them in meeting the cold which is sure to come.

The lone Summer Poinsettia stands like a flaming sentinel years in the number and size of these checks?

Based upon the latest official figures, released by the Social Security Administration, there has been a marked change in both directions.

Currently, the number of local people receiving payments each month is considerably greater than three years ago. And, the report shows, these payments are at the average rate of $868 per year in Calloway County, which is more than in most other areas.

Elsewhere in the East South Central States, the average is $827 a year and, in the State of Kentucky, $854.

Entitled to receive such pension checks, under the Social Security program, are retired or disabled workers and their dependents.

The amount that each pensioner or his family gets is in proportion to his past earnings and, consequently, to his contributions to the retirement fund during his working years. The fact that the checks to local beneficiaries are relatively large indicates that, over the years, their incomes were better than average.

The report shows that there were 4,081 residents of Calloway County who were receiving pension checks as of the beginning of this year. They collected a total of $3,552,000 in 1968.

An idea of how much the benefits have been increasing in the local area may be obtained from comparison with the figures released three years ago.

At that time, the number of local recipients was only 3,460, and the amount they received, $2,524,000.

Further increases in both benefits and taxes are expected, but not until next year. The President has proposed a 7-cent rise in benefits, effective in February, but Congress is opposed to consideration of it at this time. Chairman Wilbur Mills of the Ways and Means Committee wants to wait and see what happens to the cost of living in the next few months.

Federal Official Stops Shipments Of Food To Coast

By United Press International
A federal official ordered a stop to the airlifting of food to the hurricane-ravaged Gulf Coast Wednesday. At the same time Mississippi and the Red Cross appealed for food donations.

George Hastings, head of federal disaster relief efforts on the Gulf Coast, said an adequate supply of food and clothing has been stockpiled. But Mississippi Gov. John Bell Williams said there's "a desperate need" for such items and the Red Cross issued a call for food.

The contradiction over food apparently stemmed from whether the need was considered in immediate or long range terms.

"I don't think anyone is suffering from the lack of food," said Hastings, an official of the Office of Emergency Preparedness. "They may not have a balanced diet, but they can certainly live."

The Red Cross and Williams took a different slant. "Food of all types is still needed—canned goods, stuff that would not spoil," a Red Cross spokesman said. "You never know until each night when they take stock just how much food will be needed."

The Red Cross announced Wednesday 153 persons had been killed in the hurricane in Mississippi and Louisiana, including 28 bodies as yet unidentified. The Red Cross said 4,500 persons had been injured and 275 remain hospitalized.

In Virginia the toll from last week's landslides and flooding stood at 84 known dead and 94 still missing. The count in hardest-hit Nelson County, Va., was 63 dead and 82 unaccounted for.

Viet Cong Terrorists Kill 24 Persons In Saigon Raid

By WALTER WHITEHEAD

SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong guerrillas threw four grenades into a town meeting, killing 24 Vietnamese civilians and wounding 81 in the worst incident of terrorism of the year, Allied military spokesmen said today.

In its weekly casualty report, the U. S. Command said American losses fell sharply last week but still were among the summer's heaviest because of heavy fighting on the northern coast. A total of 190 Americans died and 1,367 wounded.

Allied spokesmen said the grenade attack occurred at a village five miles northwest of Phu Cat, 260 miles northeast of Saigon Tuesday night.

A hamlet meeting hall was filled with villagers and government political workers. The grenade explosions killed two of the government workers and 22 civilians and left 70 civilians and 11 government men injured. The Viet Cong escaped.

WATCH FOR CHILDREN

THIS is the time of year, once again, when motorists should exercise more care than usual. Over four thousand Calloway County children are in school again which means that the roads, streets and highways will be crowded early in the morning, in the afternoon and during the lunch hour.

Murray and Calloway County has been fortunate in past years with a minimum of accidents being recorded and we know that the people of the city and county wish to keep it that way.

The situation will become more complex with the reopening of the university next month and motorists will be called on to exercise the best judgment they can muster in order that accidents will be held to a minimum.

The elementary school children are possibly the ones we must look out for the most, since judgment at that age is generally not too keen.

A group of children are walking along the sidewalk on Main Street when suddenly, without warning, one of them is shoved into the street. It is up to the motorist to anticipate such monkey business and be ready to stop.

A small child steps from behind a telephone pole at a school crossing without looking either way. Again it is up to the motorist to watch for such a situation and be ready to stop.

Motorists must obey the school stop signs, watch for the policeman's motion that all is clear for him to proceed, obey the speed limits in school zones, and generally use great care when in the area of any school.

The automobile driver will lose only a little time by using caution in school zones and the benefits will be great.

One child injured by an automobile or killed going to or from school by a motorist in a hurry, is too many.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Stanley F. Yolles, M.D.
Director
National Institute of Mental Health

FUTURE HOLDS MANY QUESTIONS FOR MENTAL HEALTH RESEARCH

Modern advances against mental illness in patient care and treatment, in manpower training, and in research have been extensive. Yet they come at a point when our times seem to be sharply changing and the scope of mental health problems is enlarging drastically.

Thus, it may well be asked, "Where do we go from here?"

In some areas, the answers are relatively simple. We anticipate, for example, that the number of patients residing in State and local mental hospitals will continue to decline.

By the end of the 20th century, not far off now, we should have less than 50,000 such patients. Large residential mental hospitals will not be needed.

There are other issues and directions, however, that are not so neatly packaged. The control of emotional disturbances with drugs is still in its scientific infancy. What will drug research uncover in the next generation?

What of the promises and dangers of electrode implantation? Through such devices we can already stop bulls in full charge, have cats cower in fear of a tiny mouse. What are the prospects for emotional control? By brain stimulation or drug treatments will we erase depression and calm mania?

There are other concerns, equally compelling if not as dramatic. Consider, for example, the mental health implications of air and water pollution, of choked highways and crowded cities, of urban sprawl and sonic boom.

Faced with an expanding population, we must learn—and we are learning—how to intervene at the places of stress and the times of crisis.

We have learned from studies of the effects of overcrowding on otherwise well-fed and cared-for rats. It is clear that overcrowding—in and of itself—is a major stress leading to a variety of physical and social disorders such as infant mortality, homosexuality, violent aggressive and psychotic behavior as well as death.

Certainly, rats are not people. But these research findings do have implications and warnings for humans. By the year 2000, one-fourth of the world's population will be massed in cities and urban complexes. What will this mean in terms of values, family structure, jobs, politics, and other aspects of life? What of privacy, group problem solving, and expressions of aggression?

These are some of the questions that the near future holds in prospect for mental health research. How widely and well, and with what resources, we seek the answers is surely a matter of mental health significance to each and all of us.

PILL NOT BITTER—Dr. John Adriani, 61, associate director of Charity Hospital in New Orleans, ponders winding up without the job as head of the Food and Drug Administration's Bureau of Medicine. His anti-brand name view on drugs, it seems, is unacceptable to the pharmaceutical industry. "I'm not bitter at anyone," he says.

ROADBLOCKS—The flood in Virginia left this house right in the middle of State Route 6 near Farber, washed there by raging Cove Creek, and near Richmond, the James River water is almost at the top of the utility poles. It's Hurricane Camille's aftermath.

National Safety Council Says 700 Will Die Over Holiday

By MURRAY J. BROWN
UPI Travel Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Something like 700 Americans who could read this today won't be around reading anything come Tuesday. They'll be dead.

This is the projection of the National Safety Council in Chicago which notes: 597 men, women and children died on the nation's highways during this year's Memorial Day holiday, and 609 died during the July 4th weekend.

Most of the accidents are attributed by the experts to driver errors and carelessness. If you are not a nut yourself—and look out for the nuts who never learn—you'll have a good chance of coming home from your weekend alive and in one piece.

Have Car In Top Shape

First, of course, you will have made sure your car is in top shape before setting out. You'll have checked, or had a mechanic check, your car's brakes and the tires, including the spare, the windshield washers and wipers, headlights, stop lights and tail lights, and the battery.

You won't block your view through the rear window—particularly with golf clubs, fishing rods, skis or similar objects which can become deadly projectiles if you have to brake suddenly.

You won't ride without the seat or chest belts fastened. If you have a baby riding in one of those detachable seats, you'll make sure it is firmly fixed and won't tear loose on sudden stops.

Here are some other lifesaving tips:

—Never stop suddenly on a highway unless in an emergency. If you miss your turnoff, it is safer to continue to the next exit than to back up or cut across traffic. If you must stop, get off the highway if possible. If you can't, open the hood and trunk and set up flares a safe distance away—never, never stand in the road behind your car and try to wave off oncoming drivers.

and weavers. And be ready at all times to make allowances for—and anticipate—"honest" driving errors by other drivers.

—Allow cars pulling onto the highway in front of you ample time and space to move into the flow of traffic. Don't cut across the white lines on approach or exit lanes unless they are free of cars.

—If you are driving long distances, take a break every two hours.

—Shift your position behind the wheel from time to time so as not to get too comfortable and become drowsy.

—Keep the windshield and other windows clean. Lower your headlight beams when approaching oncoming cars or when catching up with one in front.

—Don't exceed speed limits. See you on Tuesday?

Pats Must Build Stadium Or Move

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Patriots Board of directors were to meet today to decide whether the American Football League team will remain in Boston.

Patriots' President William Sullivan said Wednesday he would make "a definitive announcement" at 4:30 although it may not reflect a final decision on the club's future.

The 15-member board, 10 of them majority stockholders, was scheduled to meet at 2 p.m. EDT.

The Patriots play their home games this year in the 24,000-seat Alumni Field of Boston College. The AFL has ordered the team to have a 50,000-seat stadium under construction by 1970 or move to a city that has one. The Massachusetts Legislature defeated the most recent stadium bill last week.

Sullivan said it would be practically impossible financially for the Patriots to build their own stadium.

CALE YARBROUGH GETS POLE SPOT IN SOUTHERN 500

By ROBERT GORDON
DARLINGTON, S. C. (UPI)—Cale Yarbrough had just rounded the track faster than anyone else and won the pole position for Monday's 20th annual Southern 500 stock car race, but he really didn't want to talk about it that.

"Hey, fella, what I really need is a little publicity about my houses," said the round-faced Mercury driver. "Cale Yarbrough Homes—build 'em on an assembly line just like cars. That's how I can sell 'em so cheap."

Yarbrough, who hails from just a few miles down south of here at Timmonsville, has invested his racetrack winnings into a half-dozen business ventures that have made him well-to-do, and possibly wealthy.

If Yarbrough runs Monday like he did on Wednesday, he can likely open another house factory, a few more dry cleaning establishments or jump into something new.

Yarbrough, complaining of a slick track that made his car skid down the final straight and nudge the wall just after passing the finish line, set a record qualifying speed for the 500 of 151.985 miles per hour.

This was seven m.p.h. higher than the old record he shares with Charlie Giotzbach, but shy of the 152.293 m.p.h. mark he set for the Rebel 400 in May, just after the Darlington track was resurfaced.

Buddy Baker of Charlotte, N. C., grabbed the outside pole in a Dodge with a run of 151.380. Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala., was third in a Ford at 151.177 and Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia fourth in a Ford at 151.062.

Others were David Pearson of Spartanburg in a Ford at 150.620; Ford driver Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., at 150.506; Giotzbach of Georgetown, Ind., in a Dodge at 149.447, and Richard Brickhouse of Rocky Point, N. C. in a Dodge at 147.748.

Steve Melnyk Has Lead In Amateur

OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI)—Vinnie Giles wanted to trade places with Steve Melnyk in the first round of the U.S. Amateur golf championship.

Today, two strokes behind, Giles got his wish.

The two-time runnerup had an early starting time, before the already-treacherous greens at Oakmont Country Club were made more difficult by hundreds of clear marks and loose turf.

Melnik, who benefitted from that advantage Wednesday, was a late starter.

"I was lucky," said Melnyk, who shot a one-under-par 70. "It was real damp. The greens weren't spiked up. It was easier to putt."

Giles from Lynchburg, Va., who lost his tournament by a single stroke in 1967 and 1968, was tied for second place at 72 with Rick Jones of Worthington, Ohio, who was an Army golfing buddy of U.S. Open champion Orville Moody.

In a five-way tie at 73, two over par, were John Farquhar, Amarillo, Tex.; John Govern, Binghamton, N.Y.; Jim Rheim, La Jolla, Calif.; Don Allen, Rochester, N.Y. and Andy North, Monona, Wis.

Barely half the field—76 of 150—were able to produce scores beneath 80 as Oakmont's 6,670 yards proved a formidable obstacle for the world's finest amateur golfers.

Bruce Fleisher, the defending champion, skidded to 78; four-time British amateur champion Mike Bonallack was at 77; 1968 winner Gary Cowan had a 79; and Andrew Brooks, top performer for Britain's Walker Cup team, soared to 87.

Tom Watson, an 18-year-old Stanford University student from Kansas City, scored a hole-in-one on the 233-yard eighth hole, using a 3-iron. The ace helped Watson to a 74, where he was dead-locked with six others.

Shooters Set For State Skeet Meet

MAYFIELD, Ky., Aug. 26 — The state's top marksmen will compete in the Kentucky State Skeet Championships this weekend at the Jackson Purchase Gun Club.

Some 75-100 shooters from Louisville, Fort Knox, Fort Campbell, Ashland, Richmond, Murray, Paducah, Calvert City and Mayfield are expected to compete in the two-day, four-gun event.

Firings begin early Saturday with the 410 and .28 gauge events being shot on the opening day. The .20 gauge and 12 gauge events will be shot on Sunday.

Paducah's Joe O'Donley, winner of the all-round, 20 gauge and 410 events in the state shoot a year ago will be on hand to defend his titles.

O'Donley recently won the Jackson Purchase Open and has been established as one of the favorites in the weekend 400-bird event.

Club officials estimate 10,000 targets will be shot during the two days of competition and practice rounds.

1968 state winners in addition to O'Donley were: 12 gauge, Bill Ferguson, Paducah; 28 gauge, Col. D. L. Cool, Fort Knox; ladies, Mrs. Hilda Evans, Ashland; junior, Mark Castle, Richmond; senior, G. E. Randall, Louisville.

Paducah shooters also won the 12 gauge 2-man and 5-man events, and the 20 gauge 5-man team event.

Curtis Kazez, Jr., Ashland, is president of the Kentucky Skeet Shooting Association. Vice presidents include Everett Wheeler, Murray, western zone; Royce Porter, Ashland, eastern zone; and Eugene Wenz, Louisville, central zone. W. G. Mattingly, Paducah, is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Keyes was drafted by the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League but has had difficulty reaching a contract agreement with the club.

BOUTON TRADED

HOUSTON (UPI)—Jim Bouton, a former 21-game winner with the New York Yankees, was acquired by the Houston Astros from the Seattle Pilots Tuesday in exchange for relief pitcher Dooley Womack and major league pitcher Roy Harrison.

Bouton appeared in 56 games for the Pilots and had a 3.50 earned run average.

Casper Hopes To Defend His Title

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI)—Defending champion Billy Casper hopes to break his personal victory drought and gain a second Greater Hartford Open title in the $100,000 tournament scheduled to open Friday.

The Bonita, Calif., pro captured the $20,000 GHO first prize last year and is considered one of the favorites in the 72-hole test which concludes Monday over the 6,568-yard par-71 Wethersfield Country Club course.

A field of 144 players will compete in the Labor Day weekend event, including Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Julius Boros, Frank Beard and Dan Sikes.

Twenty-six of the entrants qualified Monday with Jerry Abbott of Tulsa, Okla., and Butch Baird of Galveston, Tex., leading the qualifiers with five-under-par 67s.

WBA Adopts Standardized Payment Plan

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI)—The World Boxing Association has adopted a standardized membership payment plan designed to solve a financial problem the organization has tried to cope with for nearly 20 years.

WBA members passed the new resolution at their annual convention here Tuesday before recessing to consider election of new officers scheduled for today.

Miami Boxing Commissioner Al Sherman, who headed a five-member "blue ribbon committee" appointed Monday to look into "gross inequities" in the payment of membership dues, suggested that every member state and foreign country pay $100 annually in dues.

Delegates unanimously approved the motion with the provision that a WBA member who does not pay his fee will lose the right to vote in matters concerning international boxing.

In the only other major business approved by delegates from eight foreign countries and 21 of the United States was the motion to appoint a body to investigate alleged voting inequalities within the worldwide organization.

Sherman's second motion, which passed without opposition, calls for the president of the WBA to appoint a "body of world boxing association members which represent a good cross section of our organization" to work out an equitable voting solution.

TEN CLUBS GET OK ON TICKETS

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Mets and Houston Astros, the National League's first two expansion teams, are participants in a baseball ritual they waited seven long years to perform—that of printing tickets for a league championship series.

The Mets and Astros were among 10 major league clubs seven in the National and three in the American League, granted permission Wednesday to print tickets for the first inter-division playoffs.

Baseball has officially named the playoffs the "league championship series" in an attempt to boost the prestige of the games.

Representatives of the 10 clubs met in the offices of baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn to map plans for the post-season playoffs scheduled to open Saturday, Oct. 4.

Chicago, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Los Angeles and San Francisco were also directed by NL President Warren Giles to print tickets for the playoffs.

Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said Baltimore, Minnesota, and Oakland could order their tickets.

Kuhn said the American League's championship series will open in the city of the Eastern Division winner while the National League starts its series at the home of the Western Division titleholder. After the first two games, the

Ole Miss Is Pick To Win SEC Title

By DAVID MOFFIT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI)—Mississippi's Johnny Vaught sets the record for longevity among Southeastern Conference coaches as he goes into his 23rd season at the Rebels' helm. If last year's sophomores made his job enjoyable again, this season prospects should really delight him.

We don't want to put a hex on the Rebels like we did to Florida last year, but Mississippi is the choice to win the SEC title.

Vaught has won half a dozen conference titles but the last one was in 1963. Now, the Rebels look like the Rebels of old.

Sixteen starters are among 43 returning lettermen; junior Archie Manning could be the league's best quarterback; senior Bo Bowen may be its best runner; and the Rebels have another half dozen bona fide candidates for all-star honors.

Strong in Sophs

To top it off, Vaught has another promising crop of sophomores to provide the depth which he insists was lacking at times last season because of injuries.

Mainly a sophomore team in '68, Ole Miss posted a 6-3-1 record, then whipped Virginia Tech 34-17 in the Liberty Bowl. The losses were to Georgia, Houston and Tennessee. The tie, a shocker was with winless Mississippi State.

The 6-foot-3, 200-pound Manning—older, bigger and more experienced—is the key to the Rebels' offensive fortunes. Even though he was sidelined three times by injuries last fall, he was still a super soph.

Despite missing part or all of three games, Manning passed and ran for 1,716 yards and 13 touchdowns and was named conference back of the week on three occasions.

Bowen, light as fullbacks go at 190, was second last year only to Georgia's Brune Kemp among returning runners. Bo, who gained 469 yards, teamed with now-departed Steve Hindman (475) to account for 75 percent of the Rebels' running game last season.

Backfield Changes

Vaught, again counting on Manning's passes to provide the major portion of the Ole Miss offense, has moved Leon Felts from wingback to tailback to replace Hindman and put Buddy Jones on the flank.

Vaught is being extremely cautious. "The Southeastern Conference is a rugged, balanced football league and at least six teams should be rated on a par," he said. "I can't see anyone going through unbeaten."

In addition to his Rebels, Vaught lists, in alphabetical order, Alabama, Auburn, Georgia, LSU and Tennessee as contenders—and Ole Miss plays all of these except Auburn.

The sophomore to keep an eye on is an offensive end named Jim Poole Jr., a scion of Ole Miss' most illustrious football family.

The way Rebel fans see it, scene switches to the home site of the other club.

The two league presidents said that in the event of a tie at the end of the regular season in any division, a one-game playoff would be held to determine the winner.

In addition, they said a day off for travel after the second game will be granted if there is a time zone switch from Eastern to Pacific times.

aside from all the other plusses, if a Poole has arrived, success won't be very far behind.

Frank Robinson doesn't mind being a cog in a well-oiled machine, not when the machine is steamrolling over the rest of the American League.

The Baltimore slugger hit his 29th homer in a 7-2 Baltimore victory over Seattle Wednesday night to help stop a four-game Orioles' losing streak.

In other American League action, Detroit shut out Oakland, 2-0, Minnesota bested Washington, 4-2, Boston nipped Kansas City 4-3, California took Cleveland 4-1, and New York defeated Chicago, 6-3.

In the National League, Cincinnati took Chicago, 6-3, San Francisco got by Philadelphia, 8-7, Atlanta shut out Pittsburgh, 1-0, Houston defeated St. Louis, 5-1, New York downed the San Diego Padres, 4-1, and Los Angeles thumped Montreal, 7-3.

Allows Four Hits

Mike Cuellar allowed only four hits in chalking up his 18th victory for Baltimore. Elbie Hendricks added a solo homer to the 10-hit Oriole attack, while Tommy Davis accounted for all the Pilots' runs with a two-run homer.

Mike Cilkenny fired a three-hitter and Mickey Stanley and Tom Matchick provided run-producing singles in the Tigers' blanking of Oakland. Cilkenny evened his record at 4-4 with the victory, while the A's Jim "Catfish" Hunter dropped to 9-12.

Jim Perry hurled a four-hitter against Washington to win his 16th game of the year and move the Minnesota Twins three games ahead of Oakland in the American League's Western Division. It was Perry's 10th victory in his last 11 decisions.

Syd O'Brien's bases-loaded single in the ninth inning drove home George Scott with the winning run in the Red Sox triumph over Kansas City, giving former reliever Vicente Romo his first complete game victory in the majors.

Rico Petrocelli helped the Sox to an early 3-0 lead with his 31st homer, a two run blast in the second. Lefty Kelley homered with a man on in the fifth and Jerry Adair added a solo shot in the ninth to knot the contest.

Rick Reichardt's bases-loaded triple in the 10th inning snapped a 1-1 tie to give California its victory over Cleveland, as Hoyt Wilhelm picked up his fourth win against seven losses in relief. Jim Fregosi's homer in the ninth off loser Sam McDowell provided the Angels' other run.

Bobby Cox drove in the tie-breaking run for the Yankees with a fifth inning double, with Mel Stottlemyre scattered seven Chicago hits to earn his 17th victory. Bobby Murcer added an insurance run with his 18th homer in the eighth, as Gary Peters suffered his 13th defeat against eight victories.

Plans have been completed by Miss Patricia Anne Doran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Glenn Doran, for her wedding to James Gardner Weatherly, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Weatherly.

The ceremony will be performed on Saturday, August 30, at four-thirty o'clock in the afternoon at the First United Methodist Church with Dr. Samuel R. Dodson, Jr., officiating.

A program of nuptial music will be presented by Mrs. Larrie Clark, organist, and Mrs. Robert Baar, soloist.

To be given in marriage by her father, the bride-elect has chosen her sister, Miss Glenda Doran as maid of honor, and another sister, Miss Mary Alice Doran as junior bridesmaid.

The bridesmaids will be Miss Vicki Spiceland and Mrs. Keith Hinton of Murray and Miss Ann Huddleston of Cookeville, Tenn.

Lloyd Weatherly will serve as best man for his brother. The groomsmen will be Alan Weatherly, brother of the groom-elect, Harold Doran, brother of the bride-elect, both of Murray, Cliff Thomas and Bobby Lawson, both of Columbia, Tenn.

The ushers will be Mike Fort and John Kirk of Columbia, Tenn., Steve Warf of Franklin, Tenn., Donald Orr of Atlanta, Ga., and Joe Pat Hughes of Coldwater.

Following the ceremony a recuperation will be held at the Calloway County Country Club. No local invitations have been sent and all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Some consumers complain that the eggs in their frying pan do not cover as large an area as they once did. Egg sizes haven't changed. Weight classifications have been the same since 1930. But quality has improved. A high quality egg, according to authorities, covers a small area. The thick white is large in volume and stands high and firm around the yolk.

Big spender on the level?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a waitress in a very nice restaurant which is located on an interstate highway. It's one of a well-known chain. I greet everyone with a smile and try to give good service. Sometimes I exchange chat with my customers, but I never get overly familiar. I am happily married and have four children.

About three months ago a man came in alone and I served him. I don't know who he is or where he's from. He was well-dressed and well-mannered. He didn't talk much but he did tell me about his grandchildren. I also told him about my family. I showed no more interest in him than any other customer and he never made a pass at me.

About three weeks later this man came in again and sat in my section. I remembered him, greeted him cheerfully and served him. When he left he gave me a hundred-dollar bill for a tip. I was flabbergasted! I really tried to give it back but he wouldn't take it.

About three weeks later he came in again, and the same thing happened. After it happened a third time I took the three one-hundred-dollar bills down to the bank to find out if maybe they were counterfeit. They were real and legitimate.

I haven't spent any of it. I'm afraid if I do, he might turn out to be some kind of eccentric and his family might demand the money back. He seems perfectly sane and normal to me, but I wonder now just what I should do?

PERPLEXED WAITRESS

DEAR PERPLEXED: If you haven't already told your husband, tell him. You are wise to save the money for the time being in case The Last of the Big-Time Spenders turns out to be a disturbed or shady character. Maybe he is on the level, but I'm suspicious. It's a little early for Santa Claus.

DEAR ABBY: I have a wonderful husband and children, too, but don't use my name as this is a small town and I'm known here.

I love my husband and he loves me. So what's my problem? My husband's brother. I feel strongly attracted to him, and it is so frustrating because we are around each other a lot. I know that he feels a strong attraction for me, too. He is also married, and has a family, but you can't change what you feel, can you? I wouldn't want to jeopardize my own marriage, or his either, but I sometimes feel that if I don't get this guy alone just once I am going to jump out of my skin. It's getting worse all the time. How can I control it? Or should I make the first move and get it over with? He wouldn't be hard to get.

* ATTRACTED

DEAR ATTRACTED: Sublimate! By that I mean keep busy, think of something else, and keep your mind off this man. You're undoubtedly "flirting" with him, and he's responding. CUT IT OUT! It's marital suicide.

DEAR ABBY: Please let a secretary answer GEMINI from a secretary's point of view: No marriage is threatened by a married man buying his secretary dinner when she works late to express appreciation for extra work or a job well done.

You told the wife if the boss wants to show "appreciation," he should try money—and for the most part, I agree. But let me assure you that no amount of money paid by a corporation—not the boss—makes up for the inconvenience of an interrupted week-end, a 100-mile drive, working in a cold office because over the week-end the heat is turned off, typing for several hours, and missing dinner because the boss' insecure wife feels her marriage would be threatened if her husband took his secretary to dinner. I can assure all wives that after such a grueling work session, no secretary could possibly entertain any "ideas" about her boss. All the secretary would like is a nice warm meal and a kind "thank you" — little to ask in return for her inconvenience. WELL PAID EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ALIVE AND WELL": You may be "alive," but in my opinion, you are far from "well." Your "honest" approach to the necessity for extra-marital relations in order to satisfy man's (and woman's) urge for variety will eventually destroy the "deep love" you claim to have for one another.

Harris & Gallimore Wedding Plans Are Now Complete

Miss Linda Kay Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Harris, 1640 Olive, and Larry Lee Gilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gilmore, 122 Lakeside Drive, Paducah, have completed their wedding plans.

The ceremony will be solemnized at the First Baptist Church, Murray, on August 30 at seven o'clock in the evening. Bro. H. C. Chiles and Bro. Harold Allen of Gallatin, Tennessee, formerly of Paducah, will officiate.

The organist will be Mrs. John Bowker and the soloist will be Miss Treva Every, of Rockport.

The bride-elect, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen Miss Barbara Brown as her maid of honor. Bridesmaids will be Miss Rita Harris, sister of the bride-elect, Miss Rita Ryan, and Miss Melissa Trevathan. Her flower girl will be Miss Susan Gilmore of Owensboro, niece of the groom-elect.

The best man will be Mike Greer of Vandalia, Ohio. Groomsmen and ushers will be Don Gilmore of Owensboro, Dan Gilmore of Paducah, both brothers of the groom-elect, and Jerry Don Culpepper, of Murray, cousin of the bride-elect.

All relatives and friends of the couple are invited to the wedding and reception to follow in the church fellowship hall.

GOING UP!

When shoes get high on heels, the whole fashion picture changes. So does a lady's stance, and the way she walks.

Watch, then, for the new fall shoes. The National Footwear Institute reports that the higher heel is in solid. It has reached a new high of design excellence, with shapes that are sturdy and military-straight. Even at the high of two-and-a-half inches, these are architectural heels, heels a shoe can lean on.

Because of the great variety of hemline lengths, a wardrobe of heel heights is essential. There are wafers and inch-highs and so on up to the highest. While straight is also the favorite expression in these lower ones, shapes can be curvy or grooved or faceted. And watch for the stacked heel to rise again.

Wall Street Chatter

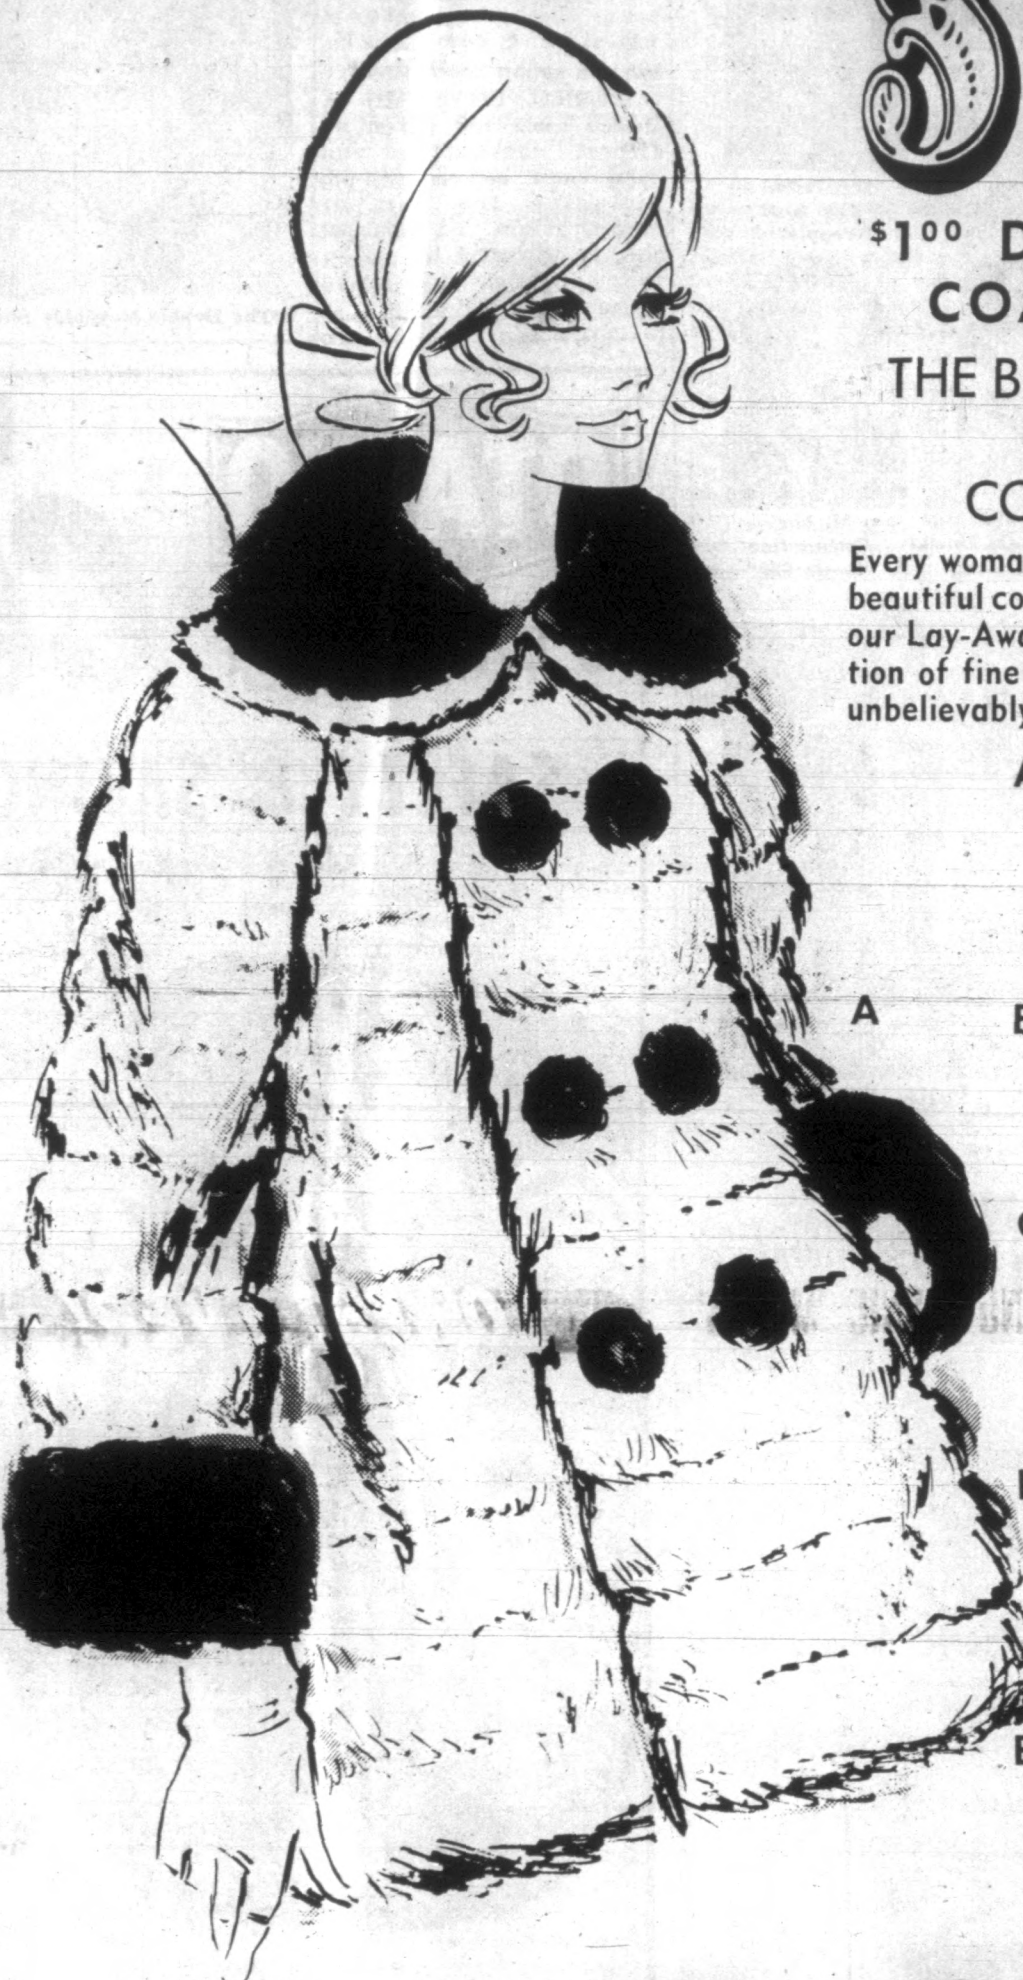

NEW YORK (UPI)—It will take a great deal of time to repair the technical damage done to the market this summer, says McDonnell & Co. But provided no further stringencies are imposed on money and credit, "September seems likely to bring considerable improvement in the market's tone and buoyancy," the firm predicts.

The odds are slightly in favor of a rally over the next couple of months, judging by seasonal tendencies, according to Spear and Staff. The very fact the market has experienced an extraordinary decline could reinforce the established pattern of late-year gains. However, particular results can stray wide from seasonal norms, as witness 1969's sharp summer slump, the firm noted.

The prognosis for corporate profits is unfavorable but the markdown in stock prices has gone a considerable distance toward discounting this prospect, according to the Wiesnerberger Investment Report. "Barring unexpectedly adverse developments in the credit area, prevailing valuations and the market's performance suggest the popular stock averages are in the early stages of bottoming." The market climate is now such that "it is reasonable to expect individual stocks to reflect their respective merits," the firm observed.

James Dines & Co. noted that a number of factors are pointing to short-term improvement, but that the majority of technical indicators still are negative. It still is too early to determine whether the current rally "is only a belated summer rally or the start of a brand-new and huge bull market," the firm said, adding that a real selling climax, "instead of the mini-climax we had," would inspire more confidence in the prospect of a coming bull market.

Men's wear

Moon voyage seen affecting fashions

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI) — Stanley Gellers is convinced the success of the Apollo 11 mission means anthropomorphic space styles will eventually replace bell bottom pants and other loose fitting garments on the American scene. It very likely will popularize the jumpsuit.

Gellers, 35, is executive editor of Men's Wear, the magazine that has become so slick and sometimes sexy it has made its way to the newsstands for the general public. And, with such connections, he thinks, sleeps and eats fashion.

While thinking fashion the other day he got onto the subject of the moon landing and the dazzling white space suits worn by astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin. They were shaped to the body as much as possible, which is a non-scientific way of saying they were anthropomorphic.

They also were of new fabrics and fibers which presumably will be translated into earthwear for men, especially in the fields of athletic endeavor and outdoor sports such as hunting and fishing. But first, Gellers predicts, there will be a rash of space suits for children "and I hope this doesn't wreck things."

Jumpsuits have been around for years and almost every designer worthy of the name has come up with one variation or another. They were fairly popular on the west coast but never really caught on anywhere else. Now Gellers thinks they will, starting with the younger generation which is already wearing two piece vest and pants suits reminiscent of Romeo costumes.

"The kids are bigger experimenters," he said. "They don't want to look like the establishment. Their brothers in college won't wear jumpsuits, but they will. Would I wear a jumpsuit? Well, it would be great for gardening or boating on a cool day."

"I think the fabric would have to be knitted since a one piece suit needs flexibility and return action. You could dress it up with a jacket for business and it would be a helluva rain suit, crisply tailored, over a business suit."

"As for the lunar suit, I feel the kids might like the antiseptic look of silver or white, a juniorbatch of Mr. Clean's running around. However the moon boots were a bit clunky and the kids like sandals. However, I see the kids getting away from the bell bottoms and going into a trim (anthropomorphic) look."

Sportswear
Gellers let his imagination go into orbit at that point and he conjured up visions of sportswear incorporating some of the features of the lunar costumes and built-in airconditioning to keep the body temperature normal.

"They had all those old-fashioned long Johns air conditioned with little tubes of water," he said. "Think how someone might develop an earthbound suit for wear on a hot desert or, in reverse, for the colder ski slopes. If a man were off on safari he would have a suit that could keep out both the heat and the tse-tse flies.

SLICK WORK—Bags of a calcium and detergent mix are unloaded from trucks at St. Brieuc, France, in an effort to dissipate an 8-mile-long carpet of oil drifting toward the little English Channel fishing village. The oil is believed to have come from the French oil tanker Gironde, which collided in the channel with the Israeli cargo ship Harbasha.

Realtors are divided on homes for poor

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The real estate industry is engaged in a family squabble over whether the government should provide interest subsidies to help poor people buy homes costing more than $17,500.

The Mortgage Bankers Association of America (MBA) and the Council of Housing Producers argue the present limit of $17,500 is so low no decent homes are available for the price in the big cities where many of the poor live.

But the National Association of Real Estate Boards (NAREB) contends if the limit is raised, it will price the truly low income families out of the market.

Legislation now pending in the Senate would boost the ceiling to about $25,000 in high cost areas. The Department of Housing and Urban Development supports the proposal.

Lon Worth Crow Jr., a Miami mortgage banker and president of MBA, said the present level "is so inadequate that the program is unworkable."

Philip N. Brownstein, former Federal Housing Commissioner who is Washington's representative on the Council of Housing Producers, said it is virtually impossible for a family to obtain a decent house in many of the nation's big cities for $17,500.

Brownstein also called on Congress to remove a restriction which prohibits a family purchasing a home under the interest subsidy program from selling the home and transferring the subsidized mortgage to another eligible family.

"The effect of this restriction is to deprive the low-income family of one of the basic attributes of home ownership—salability," he said.

LOW MORTGAGES
Don E. Dickson, chairman of the Realtors' Washington Committee, said, "We believe that only by insisting on low mortgage limits on any housing subsidy program will housing assistance be assured for lower-income families."

"Inevitably, increased cost limits operate as floors instead of ceilings," he said. "Consequently, an increase in the mortgage limits would tend to disqualify some lower-income families and inspire local pressures on housing authorities to increase public housing admission limits in order to qualify higher-income families."

The interest subsidy program was part of the Housing Act passed last year. It provides government funds to help low income families pay the high cost of interest that prevents many from buying a home of their own.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — If you want to write a letter to someone traveling on a ship, there are better ways to do it than putting a message in a bottle and throwing it into the ocean.

Yet P & O Lines says it receives letters every day that amount to little more than that with addresses such as "Mrs. John Smith, Passenger, World Cruise" and "Miss Mary Johnson, Steamship Passenger, P & O."

With every ticket, P & O issues, it sends postal schedules for the voyage involved, showing ports of call, the dates the ships will be at each, and names and addresses of its agents at each point on the itinerary. Letters should be addressed according to instructions, the line says.

Israeli Excavations
JERUSALEM (UPI) — The Israeli Department of Antiquities has resumed excavations in the courtyard of the Citadel of David.

In excavations last year, buildings and walls dating back to the period of the Second Temple (4th century B.C.) were found. They had remained upright to a considerable height.

The earth rotates from west to east.

The American public's total health insurance benefits in 1968 were estimated at $12 billion, according to the Health Insurance Institute.

Ex-actress is expert in industrial staging

By KATHLEEN NEUMEYER HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A few months ago someone told Joan Granville Jones there was $1 million a year to be made in industrial staging.

"The figure stuck in my mind," the petite, brunette former actress laughed. So she went into the business.

As head of Pacific Artists, a west coast firm which produces television commercials, she figured she had the contacts to furnish industry with talent and props for live shows spotlighting new products at sales meetings and conventions, or entertaining employees and customers at banquets and parties.

"You know it used to be that businesses would hold meetings after meeting, interrupted just by lunch and livened up by one pretty girl passing out the literature," Mrs. Jones said. "It's different now."

She claims there's a trend in industry to use show business methods to sell products and ideas to employees as well as the public.

Her Industrial Staging Associates of Hollywood is prepared to furnish scripts, original songs, performers, bands, balloons and tigers that growl on cue.

"If they have the idea, we can get the talent," she says. "Or we can develop the whole concept and carry it right through to production. We prefer the latter—it's more fun."

"They give us a whole raft of their literature and we bring it back to our office and study it. We have to interpret their style, use their language. It's the inside jokes which go over the best. Sometimes we can bring down the house with a joke we don't even get ourselves."

Mrs. Jones hires experienced, professional performers and crew and stages her shows without rehearsal. So far there have been no snafus.

Professionals

"We work with pros, that's how we're able to do it," she explains.

Recently she put on a revue for a Bank of America branch managers meeting.

"The idea was to tell the managers banks have got to humanize," she said.

"A lot of people are terrified of banks, and they have to compete with the loan companies which advertise about friendly finances. We had a sketch about a hippie with $1 million to deposit—trying to show you shouldn't look askance at a customer because of the way he's dressed."

She also produced a show for a Vivian Woodward cosmetics sales meeting, introducing several hundred face creams, bath salts, powders and perfumes.

"It was a challenge to find different ways of presenting that many products, especially since they were so small," Mrs. Jones said.

"We used a magic theme and had the various items popping out of hats and balloons."

"For Clipped Wings, which is an organization of defrocked or debriefed United Air Lines stewards, we put on the entertainment for a luncheon for 800 women. We wrote original words to Come Fly With Me, and we had a fashion show with costumes from the movies."

"We designed the set, provided a girl singer, two dancers, 12 models, a comic and an orchestra, and put the package together for them for $2,000."

Mrs. Jones concluded: "We haven't made that first million yet. But we're working on it."

Bread-beef Barbecue

Spark a supper menu with barbecue beef roll-ups. Combine ¼ cup of pancake mix, ¼ cup of enriched corn meal, 1 cup of milk, 1 egg and 1 tablespoon of melted or liquid shortening in a bowl. Stir lightly until batter is fairly smooth. Pour the batter onto a hot, lightly greased griddle; bake to a golden brown. Spoon your favorite barbecue beef mixture (heated) across the center of each pancake; roll up. Place in a greased 11 by 7-inch baking pan; sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven about 10 minutes or until cheese is melted. Makes 4 servings.

Remove gum from material by placing items in a plastic bag in the freezer for several hours. Gum then peels off easily.

Dining Out In Style

Calls For Gourmet Food, Gala Accessories

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

WHEN IT comes to summer happenings, the posh picnic out is very "in". Instead of standard sandwich fare, the menu is more elaborate. Typical is the gourmet basket lunch featured today: Quiche Lorraine, cold chicken, Seasoned Cream Dressing with avocado halves or a crispy salad, Fluffy Tapioca Cream and/or strawberries for dessert and, to top it all off, a flavorful beverage, Cafe Cacao Frappe. All the accessories for gracious dining—a pretty cloth, elegant stainless steel flatware, glasses—go into the basket, too.

It's dining out with a difference, a new fashion in al fresco meals that's fun!

QUICHE LORRAINE
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell

4 ounces bacon
3 eggs, beaten slightly
1 cup milk
1 cup light cream
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of white pepper
Dash of cayenne
1 cup grated Swiss Cheese

Bake pastry at 400 F. for 8 minutes.

Meanwhile, fry bacon until crisp. Drain, then crumble.

Combine eggs, milk, cream, seasonings.

Sprinkle bacon and cheese in partially baked pastry. Pour in egg mixture.

Bake at 400 F. for 30 minutes, or until knife inserted one inch from edge comes out clean.

Cool 15 minutes before serving. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie or 6 servings.

SEASONED CREAM DRESSING

1 envelope salad dressing mix, any flavor except creamy or low calorie
2 cups (1 pint) sour cream

Blend salad dressing mix into sour cream. Mixture may be stored in refrigerator 4 days. Spoon into avocado halves, serve with cold meat or fish, or use as a salad dressing.

Makes 2 cups.

CAFE CACAO FRAPPE

1 tablespoon freeze-dried coffee or instant quality coffee
¼ cup cold water
1 cup finely shaved or crushed ice
½ cup crème de cacao

Blend coffee and water; then pour into cocktail shaker with ice. Add crème de cacao and shake vigorously. Pour over crushed ice in cocktail glasses. Serve with short straws.

Makes about 2 cups or 4 servings.

For picnic, combine all ingredients except ice in a vacuum bottle. Pour over ice just before serving.

LIGHT AND FLUFFY Tapioca Cream is perfect picnic treat. Store in freezer until you take to the road. By time you arrive at site it will have thawed to right consistency.

FOR A GOURMET PICNIC, the cloth is set with elegant Regency stainless by Reed & Barton, the better to eat Quiche Lorraine and avocado with Seasoned Dressing.

FLUFFY TAPIOCA CREAM

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
1 egg, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla

Mix tapioca, 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, milk, and egg yolk. Let stand 5 minutes.

Beat egg white until foamy throughout; gradually add 2 tablespoons sugar; beating until soft peaks form.

Cook and stir tapioca mixture over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil—6 to 8 minutes. Gradually add hot mixture to beaten egg white, stirring rapidly. Add vanilla. Cool about 20 minutes; stir.

Serve warm or cool for 1 hour; then chill 2 to 3 hours. Serve plain or with a sauce.

Makes about 2½ cups or 4 to 5 servings.

To pack for a picnic, prepare recipe as directed. Cool and pour into 4-to 6-ounce paper cups or individual soufflé dishes. Do not fill over ¾ full. Cover tightly; freeze until ready to use.

Put in 3 hours. (Do not hold out of freezer longer than 4 hours; do not refreeze).

Serve with fresh strawberries, if desired.

Cites school problems

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teacher shortages, financing and desegregation add up to problems in American education during the coming academic year.

U.S. Education Commissioner James E. Allen described the problems in answering questions submitted to him by United Press International.

Q. Will teacher shortages be acute again this fall?

A. "The nation's elementary and secondary schools will have about 50,000 more teachers this fall than last year, but it is likely that teacher shortages will continue to occur in specific regional areas and among certain subject specialties. Rural areas, for example, will have more difficulty in attracting teachers than suburbs or large cities."

Q. V. at shape are the nation's schools in financially?

A. "Financing education is a nationwide problem of mounting urgency. In many parts of the country, the property tax can no longer be depended on for the increased revenues necessary to support needed educational expansion and improvement. A complete overhaul of present patterns of financing education is badly needed."

Q. What are some of the major classroom problems this fall?

A. "Desegregation. There is also the possibility of student unrest in many secondary schools which places a special responsibility on school boards and administrators to be aware and to take preventive action."

On desegregation, the commissioner said pressures will be felt in both North and South. Other problems he cited: challenges of helping the disadvantaged child; extending education services to pre-school children; involving the community more in school affairs, especially among the urban poor.

A new massaging device has a slim, long design the manufacturer says enables the user to reach even upper back muscles without strain. Attached to the easy grip, fluted surface of the main body is a quilted vibrating head that provides the gentle, yet firm massaging action. It uses about the same amount of electricity as a 15 watt light bulb.

A new cleaning kit helps to

The kit contains a swisher especially developed for contact lenses. This is a plastic device that holds the lenses in place while cleaning solution bathes them.

Easy Senate OK Is Expected For Haynsworth Nomination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court goes before the Senate in three weeks for what is expected to be easy approval.

While the appointment drew criticism from some Negro and civil rights leaders outside the Senate, there was only a reserved reaction from some of the more liberal senators themselves.

In addition, the appointment, announced from the California White House Monday, prompted praise from several Southern senators, including James O. Eastland, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which first must pass on Haynsworth's qualifications.

Eastland announced hearings would begin Sept. 9 if the appointment is approved by the judiciary panel, the full Senate will vote.

Eastland said Haynsworth's distinguished legal career includes performance as a respected and outstanding attorney and as an experienced member of the federal judiciary.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said "He is an able jurist and, being a strict constructionist of the Constitution, will be a fine addition to the court." Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., said Haynsworth has "shown a thorough understanding of legal principles and a superior analysis of complex legal problems."

It was mostly Haynsworth's background in other legal cases that brought the opposition from civil rights leaders. Among those offering criticism were:

Roy Wilkins, executive director of the NAACP: "In at least four cases dealing with racial integration of public schools Judge Haynsworth voted for racial segregation. In each of these cases the Supreme Court voted unanimously to end segregation."

Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director of the Urban League: "At this crucial point in our history the nation cannot afford to lose the crusading reformist spirit that has characterized the court in recent years."

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay: "I had hoped he (Nixon) would seek out a justice who stood in the tradition of Cardozo, Brandeis, Frankfurter and Goldberg. It is a judicial tradition of sensitivity and humanism that must not be lost."
